

Board To Prepare Report on Finances of Co. Fair

Decision on Premium Payments To Be Made Within Few Days.

A statement to premium winners will be made within a few days by the executive committee of the fair board after it meets this week. The committee will study the financial outcome of the fair, Secretary C. H. Ritzke said today.

No premiums have been paid of officials awaiting a financial report on the fair, he said.

Saturday's fair did little to swell the gate receipts which were up each day except Friday because of rain, fair officials said. It was estimated that between 1,500 and 2,000 persons visited the grounds Saturday.

Fair officials said a complete financial report covering the fair will be issued in the near future.

The fairgrounds were stripped of exhibits Saturday morning.

Congressmen remained on the grounds Saturday afternoon and night although the official fair

"I USE HYDRAULIC BRAKES 600 TIMES A DAY!"

AN INTERVIEW WITH JOSEPH PREHER, DIV. CIRCULATION MGR., LOUISVILLE (KY.) HERALD-POST

"No more of the old kind for me ... after owning a Plymouth"

NINETY-FIVE news-stands wait eagerly for Joe Preher to come rushing around every time a new edition hits the street. He's got to make time... keep a split-second schedule... slam on brakes 600 times a day.

Working his brakes so hard on his former car cost him plenty for adjustments and re-lining. But with Plymouth's hydraulic brakes, it's a far different story. They're always equalized. And brake linings last longer!

Brakes are not the only thing that must stand up on Joe Preher's cars. For he puts 50,000 miles a year on the speedometer.

His car is still "tight as a drum" at 12,000 miles. Floating Power engine mountings helped do that. It stands to reason, too, you'll avoid rattles with a welded safety-steel body that has no joints to loosen.

Look at the things that make a car stand up when you look at "all three" low-priced cars—and we think you'll pick a Plymouth.

STANDARD MODELS priced from $445 to $510; Deluxe Models, $595 to $595. Prices are subject to change without notice. All prices F.O.B. Factory, Detroit, Mich.

DRYS REJECT 'PARTNERSHIP'

Ways in Drafting Control Plan, Says.

News Service. Sept. 18.—The League of Women Voters will reject the plan for a "partnership" between the dry and wet forces in drafting a liquor control law, it was learned today.

The plan, which was proposed by the National Association of Manufacturers, would give the dry and wet forces equal representation in a committee to draft a liquor control law.

The plan was rejected by the League of Women Voters because it would give the dry and wet forces equal representation in a committee to draft a liquor control law.

fail, the blame will be on their shoulders, not on ours.

"But if we were to work cooperatively with them, and their plan were to fail, still they would say that that blue-law crowd, meaning us, caused all the trouble."

Will Have Our Plan. While spinning all coverures of the wet to help draft a cooperative law, the drys will assume a "wet" role to propose a plan of their own making, provided the amendment is repealed.

"The wet," McNamara complained, "are interested only in getting all the liquor possible. The drys are interested in getting all the prohibition possible. We are not interested in working on any committee that has a large wet majority. We will work through the people—through public sentiment. We do not have any hopes of getting any remedies from a bunch of wets."

Previously, the dry leader charged, prohibitionists have been invited to appear before legislative committees to offer counsel. The wets, although very polite, never give any heed to the drys' suggestions, he said.

Question No. 1, asking whether he believes repeal of the 18th amendment to be inevitable, aroused McNamara's ire.

"I'm not willing to make a statement before the battle is over," he exclaimed. "I still think Ohio has a chance to make a good showing if we can get the dry balls in the box, we can hold Ohio despite what the other states have done."

Strong for Prohibition. A flippant response was given to the question, "What would the ideal liquor control plan be?" "Prohibition," was the reply.

"Will the league be active in helping to draw a liquor control measure into it in backing the 15th amendment?" was the next question, and the answer was: "We're not interested in the drawing up of a liquor control measure with an overwhelming wet legislature."

Asked whether a temperance campaign will be carried on if the amendment is repealed, McNamara said: "Yes—a real temperance campaign." He stoutly refused to give details.

"Has the league started to map out a second dry campaign to bring about another federal prohibition amendment?" was put to him.

Answer—"Too early to answer that question."

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, Sept. 19

THE ASTRAL influences intervening on the affairs of this day are conspicuous for the splendid openings and opportunities for an unexpected nature fostered by their rule.

A sudden and radical change in the affairs, contacts and environments, making way for great increase and development of all the affairs, with preference and assistance from those in places of power and prestige. It is a time to seek promotion and solid assistance from these, after surmounting certain tenacious obstacles.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year's enlarged prospects, splendid new developments of the affairs, increase of possessions and growth in prestige with high favors from those in power and position. It is a time for pushing for fruition of cherished aims, after adjusting tenacious obstructions.

A child born on this day should be ambitious, adventurous, efficient, popular and should attain position and prestige by its versatility.

"LOST RIVER" USED AS SEWAGE PLANT

Mysterious Stream in Northern Ohio Aids Sanitation.

By International News Service. BELLEVUE, O., Sept. 18.—Ohio's "lost river," long an object of study by scientists and one of wonder for the layman, is being utilized by this city as a sewage disposal plant.

The mysterious stream, which some authorities claim starts in southeastern Ohio and runs beneath the ground northeastward toward Sandusky bay, comes to the surface at the "Blue Hole" near Castalia, O., but its presence has been noted near other localities in northern Ohio.

Bellevue is taking advantage of the fact and instead of constructing a costly brick and mortar sewage purification plant is utilizing this strange phenomena of nature for purposes of sanitation.

There are many "wells" drilled by home owners here to allow passage of their sewage into the strange stream. But diggers declare that while they may locate a drainage fissure only 15 feet down in one yard, it may be necessary to drill 100 feet in the next lot to find one.

In a flood several years ago, the drainage pipe in one home reversed itself and for two days an eight-inch stream of sulphur water boiled forth.

Some homes get their water supply from the "lost river." Bellevue, however, relies upon a reservoir for its water supply. After a recent drought, the city drilled a 200-foot well and provided sufficient water to meet the emergency.

U. S. EXPORTS MOVE UPWARD

Record of First Six Months of Year Seen As Sign of Recovery.

NEW YORK—Led by a notable turn for the better in Latin America, the proof of how far the recovery movement in American foreign trade has already gone is shown by the fact that in the first six months of this year the world's American exports were better than last year.

Six of these countries are listed in a statement issued today by the National Foreign Trade Council in Latin America, Argentina, Chile, Venezuela, Brazil, Mexico, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Belgium and the Netherlands. New Zealand, South Africa and Egypt are in the list of countries related to the British Empire.

The increase in foreign trade of American exports, which are susceptible to substantial rise in the most encouraging feature of the present phase of American foreign trade. The proportion of manufactured goods, more than 80 percent, is now more than 77 percent for the present year compared with 63 percent for the first half of last year.

Among the long list of manufactured articles which are showing in this decided gain in exports are automobiles, accounting and calculating machines and other office equipment, iron and steel scrap, coal tar products, radio receiving sets and tubes, typewriting machines, power pumps and power driven mowing machines. We have exported this year more than $2,000,000 worth of American aircraft, largely to South America, and a greatly increased number of aircraft engines.

The tide of American foreign trade has turned, after a decline extending over 46 successive months, over since September, 1929, with a declared export total for June of $19,800,000, or eight percent better than June, 1932. If this rate is maintained 1933 should be a far better year for exports than 1932.

years, August, 1931, and May, 1929, have our exports exceeded our exports, but June of this year to this extent, another indication of change for the future. Improved imports, a definite sign of the quickening of domestic business, amounted to $122,262,000, an advance of 11 percent over last year. This balance in favor of imports may be anticipated as a steadily recurring development of our trade returns for the future, as the creditor position of the United States tends to bring into our markets an increase of imports which may at least keep pace with the new trend of expanding export shipments.

"THEIR FIRST MATE"
COMEDY, AT PALACE

Another of the Zasu Pitts-Slim Summerville comedies opened at the Palace yesterday to show through Tuesday. As the title suggests, Slim is a sailor in this comedy-romance.

To many Summerville is a fairly recent addition to screen entertainment, but in reality, Slim's first screen work was done in 1913 after he had hit his head across the country and fallen in with a gang fighter who improved his fame time by appearing as an "extra" in Mark Sennett's early comedies.

FRANCIS HUSTON
IN MARION SHOW

"Storm at Daybreak," the picture which will be shown today and Tuesday at the Marion, was made from Hungary's stage play, "Black Stommed Cherries." A cast of "names" is headed by Roy Luntz, Walter Huston and Nils Asther. Philip Holmes, Eugene Pallette, C. Henry Gordon, the Lee Leese, Closser Hale and Jean Pike have important parts. The technical advisor for this story is Franz Joseph of Austria in a boy.

For production of pictures of all abilities, which is a fact, a man has been known to be worn inside a coat of color and to be bending a wire in the action calling a truck to a halt in a race track.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 18—Looks like the days of these "silly" silents" mounting around over anyone on trial is over. Juries have started in giving the deceased or injured party a break.

Looks like my single-handed crusade to keep us out of Cuba hasn't been very successful. Now we got to go in to protect Americans, who would have needed no protection had we had no diplomacy or battleships to get us in wrong in the first place.

We are just getting ready to trade live for sugar. It would be better if we all learned to drink it black.

WHERE EXPERT CAR SERVICE RULES

Above is pictured the home of Shoup & Walsh, Marion's ignition and carburetor experts. They have had wide experience in both of these branches of service so important in the functioning of an automobile.

To expect the ordinary repair man to be expert on battery and ignition systems is asking too much. The wide range of knowledge called for must be gained and used by men who concentrate on this work.

In Marion this work is attended to by the Shoup & Walsh company, 127 East Church street, who for several years has devoted its attention to the electrical features of automotive work, and which has gained unusual efficiency in this field, covering generator, starter, battery, battery ignition and carburetor work.

They also can care for or repair carburetors. This too is a specialized work, requiring years of experience to fully develop its efficiency. Shoup and Walsh are well equipped with the many special tools and machinery to handle electrical or carburetor work on your car.

ZACHMAN MILK
PASTUERIZED

Method Originated by Famous Scientist Followed by Dairy.

Louis Pasteur may well be styled the father of modern bacterial knowledge. Prior to his time people only suspected the existence of these minute organisms. They were regarded as not amounting to much in the scheme of things any way, and few precautions were taken to eradicate what has since proven the most prolific source of disease. Pasteur recognized the dangers inherent in milk and took the first scientific steps to circumvent these risks.

Among the many subjects that engaged his great mind was the supply of milk. Pasteur reasoned that milk would be about the best breeding medium for bacteria both helpful and harmful. His research led him to the belief that the most predominant, and that milk was a dangerous carrier of germs. So he set about to make it harmless, and developed the process which has since borne his name.

It is found that harmful bacteria could not live in sustained heat. After long experiments he fixed upon 135 degrees as being sufficient to render milk germ free. To this day his process, with only the modification suggested by convenience, is recognized as necessary in the preparation of milk.

Practical tests followed today, and a first class dairy in the city.

To eliminate the germs that may be found, those that are responsible for Typhoid or Malaria, and the even more to be feared, colon bacillus. They free milk from its danger, without affecting either its taste or odor, and they make possible the drinking in the quantities of today.

Pasteurized milk is safe milk. It is at least open to question. Recognizing this fact, Zachman Dairy of this city furnishes its milk, and follows faithfully, so that the people of Marion who use their milk not only get high quality, but also buy safety.

The plant is at their farm just outside the city limits. For service phone 5622.

ARTISTRY MAIN PRINTING NEED

Men Are More Important Than Equipment in This Field.

So far as up-to-date equipment can make it, with all possible mechanical aids, The Marion Printing Company is an unusually good printing plant. Yet these things can be purchased by anybody with money enough, and if this concern depended upon the plant alone it is not likely that it could have made the success which has come to it in the years of its activities in this city. Printing requires more than machinery. It is an art, and art depends first and foremost upon the artist.

Good printing, therefore, while it is helped by the excellent machinery in the plant, is dependent far more on the men who head it. The heads of this plant, seem to have developed a special genius for all the detail that makes up printing, and with an unusual sense of appropriate printing and design, they recognize fully that printing is usually a means to an end, and not an end in itself. The wealth of experience and the knowledge of the trade, they possess in making printing most effective for its purpose. That their efforts have been rewarded with rich success is evident to any one who examines the class of work they turn out regularly.

Whether it be a single card or a mail order campaign, an envelope or a four color catalogue, The Marion Printing company has the facilities to create something a little better, a little more effective, you call upon them for help. That and these men are delighted when your printing may be more valuable to you is their aim, for in so helping they are giving a service that may prove invaluable, and that many come are glad to see in the preparation of their printed messages.

Keeps Temperature
Even.

We have read about the "robot," run by electricity which actually walks and talks and even answers questions, also about the electrically operated telephone attachment, which says in reply to a call "Mr. Smith is out but will be back presently when he will call you."

But here comes a new one. "The Iron Fireman" which feeds coal into your furnace and blows the fire when necessary, all day and all night long, holding the temperature in your house at just the degrees or whatever you want it to be, obeying perfectly your order given at night to be sure and have the house warm when you get up in the morning.

This Iron Fireman is said also to get all the heat there is in the coal, burning all the gases and ashes, and all the smoke and nearly all the ashes.

He gets along with much less fuel and much cheaper coal than you do when you fire and so gradually pays for himself by the saving he makes. Think of the joy to their nerves when you are

Upholstering and Refinishing
Work Saves Many Pieces from Attic.

Wear and tear in the furniture of a home when there are youngsters around is likely to make the furniture look shabby. A boy thinks nothing of putting out his foot over his mother's best mahogany table, and the scratches in the course of time make that table look like it had been used for a school desk. But these things need not make you throw the table into an attic as long as the Marion Upholstering and Cabinet Shop is in business. For many years the Marion Upholstering and Cabinet Shop has been repairing furniture, refinishing fine wood work, and upholstering at 125 East Church street and they can make that table look as good as it did when it was new.

Then, too, upholstery is not put against the youngsters. While all the stains and rips they can put into a piece of furniture come from a mystery. No amount of taking seems to have any effect on the hideous variegation, for he rightfully regards the furniture as there for use. But mother can have it restored in new colors with just about the effect of new furniture throughout. In fact, sometimes people have the upholstery on their over-stuffed pieces changed just because the old is out of harmony with the rest of the house.

Get Wise. Price alone is a "fooler." Kleinmaier quality at a price is a "money saver." Early buyers are getting men's and boys' wear at Kleinmaier's at old prices. Bought before the rise. Sold the same way.

Today, N. R. A. is forcing "cheap" manufacturers to pay their help more. That means "savings" taken out of the employees' pay envelope is no more. In other words, good quality—like we sell—can now be bought almost as cheaply as the poor stuff. No regrets when you buy at
